

Pump 101: Centrifugal Pumps

by Mickey Bernard, Hydro-Kinetics, Inc.

Event Details

Date: July 18th, 2008

Time: Noon to 3pm, followed by a social hour

Location: Engineer's Club of St. Louis
4359 Lindell Blvd, St. Louis

Cost: $5 for Young Professionals
$15 for All Other Registrants

(Cost Includes Lunch and Social Hour)

RSVP by July 15th to Rebecca Losli @
rebecca.losli@jacobs.com or 314-335-4865

This seminar is designed to refresh and reinforce basic hydraulic terminology along with offering a basic overview of the application of centrifugal pumps, including:

- Basic hydraulic terminology and concepts
- Types of Centrifugal pumps
- Application of Centrifugal pumps
- Importance of pump curves and how to read pump curves
- Centrifugal impeller types
- Basic mechanical components of Centrifugal pumps
- Gauges – Why your need them

Attendee participation is welcomed and will help identify specific topics of interest for the entire group

PDH Certificates Available!

All YPs will receive one entry per YP event they attend through 2008 for a chance to win either free registration to the MWEA Annual Conference or $200 worth of WEF Books.